Our client is a small, stable software development company, headquartered in the Seattle area.

Contract Programmer (Virtual) Job Code: SS1008

*Are you an experienced developer spanning multiple development languages and platforms?
Are you comfortable working with a wide range of clientele on a wide range of software products?
Do you enjoy doing both front end design/development and back end programming?*

If so, we want to talk to you!!

We need a great programmer to work on part-time (20+ hours per week) contract basis. This is ongoing project work, although hours per week may vary.

Individual should be a skilled, experienced programmer with strong knowledge of PHP, Javascript, JQuery, JSON, MySQL, Linux, Lamp, Apache, HTML, and AJAX. Knowledge of these programs is absolutely required.

This is not a position for an inexperienced programmer, but you should also not be too set in your ways. Candidates should be willing to utilize a variety of methods to achieve the project objectives. An open-source minded professional would be ideal.

Must be available during normal working hours and able to take on projects on short notice. Preference will be given to individuals in the western US, but any domestic location may be workable. Sorry, no international candidates please.

Must be self motivated and able to work independently with minimal supervision.

Previous experience as a contractor with project management related skills a plus.

If you would like to be considered for this position, please send a copy of your current resume and hourly rate expectations to:
